

Rights and Responsibilities for a Safe Workplace

The Automotive teacher expects his students to use good safety practices and understanding the workers' rights and responsibilities. He provides on-going feedback by observing the students while they are in the classroom and shop, marking the practices they see being used on their safety sheet to develop their awareness and competency in work situations.

The student is able to identify:	Does not meet course expectations Level 1(50-59)	Meets course expectations Level 2 (60-69)	Fully Meets Course Expectations Level 3 (70-79)	Exceeds Course Expectations Level 4 (80-100)
Hazards associated with workplace/classroom situations	Student cannot identify the relevant hazards	Student identifies some of the relevant hazards	Students identifies and describes the context in which the relevant hazard occurs	Student identifies and relates other scenarios where the hazard may occur
Ways in which to limit the risks associated with a hazardous workplace situation	Student cannot identify any ways to limit the risks of the relevant workplace hazard	Student identifies some ways to limit the risks of relevant workplace hazards	Student identifies all ways to limit the risks of workplace hazards covered during class discussions	Student identifies and relates other ways to limit the risks of workplace hazards than covered during class discussions
Worker rights associated with workplace health and safety	Student cannot identify any worker rights	Student identifies some worker rights	Student identifies all worker rights covered during class discussion	Student identifies and relates other worker rights than were covered during class discussions
Employer or supervisors responsibilities associated with workplace health and safety	Student cannot identify any employer or supervisor responsibilities	Student identifies some employer or supervisor responsibilities	Student identifies all employer or supervisor responsibilities covered during class discussion	Student identifies and relates other employer or supervisor responsibilities covered during class discussions
Effective ways to communicate concerns about a hazardous workplace situation	Student cannot identify any effective ways to communicate concerns	Student identifies some effective ways to communicate concerns	Student identifies all effective ways to communicate concerns covered during class discussions	Student identifies and relates other ways to communicate concerns than were covered during class discussions
Places to get information on employer and worker rights and responsibilities	Student cannot identify any places to get information on employer and worker rights and responsibilities	Student identifies some places to get information on employer and worker rights and responsibilities	Student identifies all places to get information on employer and worker rights and responsibilities covered during class discussion	Student identifies and relates other places to get information on employer and worker rights and responsibilities than were covered during class discussions
Teachers Comments:				